WHAT A SOURCE OF INSPIRATION

Just this morning I received a visit from a person in town.

The person visited me for a specific reason, but he talked for almost half an hour about how clean and tidy the town is.

The conversation was solely about what contribution the person could make. The conclusion of the conversation was that each person should keep his own home tidy.

I have seen the lady in the photo (posted with permission) several times in Versterstreet (gravel section)

I stopped by her and to find out what she was doing. She was busy to make their street tidy.

Such people make me very humble.
